

WILL PROPOSE AN EMERGENCY ROUTE TO NEXT CONGRESS

Designed to Provide Employment for Several Hundred Thousand

MAKE APPROPRIATION

Calls for Slashing of Restrictions Which Now Slow Up Program

By William S. Neal
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—An emergency highway program designed to provide employment for several hundred thousand will be proposed to Congress with the endorsement of the Bureau of Public Roads and the American Association of State Highway Officials, members of Congress were informed today.

The program calls for advancement of the annual $125,000,000 Federal Aid highway appropriation and in addition, the slashing of virtually all restrictions which now slow up the joint Federal-State highway program.

Under the plan, thus far developed by representatives of the State Highway Commissions and the Federal Government, the 50-50 plan of road building would be abandoned during a one-year emergency period, thus permitting the Federal Government to pay the entire cost of a project.

The states, however, would be required to reimburse the Government in future years to make the program ultimately comply with the 50-50 basis under which Federal aid highways are now built.

The program is said to have been developed as a result of reports by members of the American Association of State Highway Officials that the states would be unable to match the Government dollar for dollar in a vastly expanded road building effort during the period of unemployment.

One of the first steps, already announced by C. W. Warburton, secretary of the National Drought Relief Committee, will be to ask Congress to make the 1932 appropriation of $125,000,000 available on March 1 instead of July 1.

Besides, an additional entire year's allotment of $125,000,000 would be made available making $250,000,000 available for highway work.

The plan has been favorably received by members of Congress to whom it has been revealed. "I believe Congress will readily adopt it," said Rep. Swing (R) of Calif. "There is no form of public work which so adapts itself to unskilled labor as road work. The plans and specifications are ready. The machinery is ready. Quick action by Congress will put the program in motion."

Members of a sub-committee of the American Association of State Highway Officials will come here to present the plan to a sub-committee of the House Appropriations Committee.

Sunday School Class Meets At the Aumen Home Here

Miss Maude Aumen was hostess at her home last evening to members of Class 7 of the Bristol M. E. Sunday School, who met in monthly session. Following transaction of business, refreshments were served. Mrs. David O. Taylor is teacher of the group.

Those in attendance were: Mrs. Arthur Spicer, Mrs. Emily Orr, Mrs. Alice Winslow, Mrs. Ella Winslow, Mrs. Anna Molden, Mrs. John Smoyer, Mrs. Ida Miller, Mrs. Ella Hampton, Mrs. Ruth Bassett, Mrs. Katherine Ellis, Mrs. Ward Levere, Mrs. Howard E. James, Mrs. Charles Coombs, Mrs. David O. Taylor, Misses Verna Miller, Anna Heritage, Helen Appleton, Maude Aumen, Margaret Smoyer.

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Nov. 21.—(INS)—John Polen, New Philadelphia Safety Director, is looking for a good lightning arrester.

But it must be a good one. A bolt of lightning struck Polen's home here during a storm, shattered a window, set a curtain on fire, then bored a hole through the floor into the basement.

"Lightning like that needs something powerful to stop it," Polen said as he surveyed the damage.

RED CROSS AIDS THE EX-SERVICE MEN

Some idea of the work done in behalf of the ex-service men by the Red Cross is given in a letter addressed to American Legion Post Commanders by the chairman of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter.

The letter reads: The number of cases of ex-service men applying to the Chapter Home Service Department for assistance of some kind and handed in the first ten months was 5,304.

Of these, 40% were mental; 23% tuberculosis; and 37% general medical. The correspondence sent and received between other Red Cross chapters and other agencies in the United States and foreign countries totaled over 23,500, and the service involved a total of 12,259 visits by the Chapter Home Service workers.

LANGHORNE

Miss Annie Heritage, of Bristol, was a guest of Mrs. Joseph Newbold on Sunday.

Lyman Fassett and family, of Glenside, were visiting Blain Patterson and family on Sunday.

Mrs. Ronald Castator and children, of Germantown, spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rae Varian.

Harry Sealey, of Allentown, spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Julie F. Sealey, of East Maple avenue. The next meeting of the sewing circle will be held at the home of Mrs. Edna Praul on Station avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Solly, of Jacksonville Road, Ivyland, were visiting friends here on Sunday.

Miss Melva Adams, of Haddonfield, N. J., spent several days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Piddcock, of Winchester avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Parry, of "Glen Cove Farm," Mrs. William B. Parry, of Langhorne Manor, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Augustus Cadwallader, of Fairfield Terrace, Yardley, have returned from a visit to Sky Top Lodge in the Poconos.

THREATEN BATTLE ON CHILD WELFARE TRANSFER

Women Say They Will Continue Efforts to Block Move

REAFFIRM THE DECISION

By Pierre Miller
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Though defeated in sub-committee and committee, the women fighting endorsement of a proposal to transfer children's health activities from the Children's Bureau to the Public Health Service, today threatened to carry the battle to the floor of the White House conference on child health and protection.

As a sequel to the row that broke yesterday at a meeting of the sub-committee on Federal health organization, the full committee called in special meeting last night and reaffirmed a previous decision to recommend the transfer. Miss Grace Abbott, director of the Children's Bureau, was the only one to vote against a motion by Dr. Henry F. Vaughan, health commissioner of Detroit. The action resulted in the virtual tabling of a previous motion to substitute a minority report made by Miss Abbott.

Dr. Joel T. Boone, President Hoover's physician, refused to vote as did Dr. Anna Rude, of Los Angeles. The vote stood 26 to 1.

When the section of public health of the conference meets today efforts will be made to keep the fight over the future of the Children's Bureau from further marring the success of the conference.

Entertains in Honor of Prospective Bridegroom

Dr. George T. Fox, of Radcliffe street, was host at his home on Wednesday evening at a farewell dinner in compliment to Michael J. Keating, of Linden street, who is about to join the ranks of benedictines.

The guests included: Messrs Michael Keating, James F. Blanche, Warren Armstrong, Jr., Leonard Blanche, Frank Hurley, Fenton Larrissay, Maurice Keating, Percy G. Ford, Dennis Roche, William Marry, Charles McGinley and Neal McIlvaine, of Bristol; Eugene Barrett, of Philadelphia, and Edward Fox, of Salem, N. J.

Percy G. Ford was the master of ceremonies who directed the jollity of the evening.

A delectable menu was served and the table and room were artistically decorated for the occasion.

Now Receiving Donations For Mother Moore's Boys

Christmas donations of fruits, jellies and phonograph records which will be sent by the Bristol W. C. T. U. to Mother Moore's boys are being received now.

It is announced that donors may send articles between now and the 16th of December to 601 Radcliffe street.

The local union will conduct its next monthly meeting on the evening of Tuesday, November 25th, in the Travel Club Home.

Chalfont Boy Scouts Win the Honor of Being Champions of Bucks County at Meet Held in Doylestown Armory

Doylestown Troop No. 2 Tied With Riegelsville Troop — Five Hundred in Attendance — Meet Considered A Great Success

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 21.—By a close margin of two-thirds of a point, Chalfont No. 1 troop of Boy Scouts Wednesday night won the Bucks county championship meet in the Sixth Regiment Armory before a crowd of over 500 persons from every section of the county.

"I want to congratulate every Scout, Scout leader and troop committeeman in the county," said Thomas Ross, of Doylestown, member of the county Scout activities committee. "All of you have participated in a contest which has shown the spirit of the Scout oath and law in your competing with other Scouts from all over Bucks county."

To accommodate the hundreds of persons in attendance, Dr. Carmon Ross, off the Doylestown school, loaned the Scouts the grandstands, all of which were filled, together with every aisle and inch of floor space.

The winning Chalfont troop is headed by F. Kenneth Lane, as Scoutmaster. Assistant Scoutmaster is Alexander R. Wick. The troop committee is headed by Harry Rieble, and his associates are Russell M. Hartzel, John D. Derstine, Peter Hellberg, Irvin L. MacNair and William Angeny.

It was one of the most keenly contested county meets ever held in this section of the county. Riegelsville No. 1 troop, headed by Scoutmaster Arthur Osborne, and Doylestown No. 2 troop, headed by Scoutmaster Walter V. Rutherford, tied for second place in the meet with 15 1-3 points apiece. Trevoise No. 1 troop finished third with a total of 14 points, with William Forpaugh as Scoutmaster.

Other troops finished as follows: South Langhorne, 11 points; Hulmeville No. 1, 8 points; Bristol No. 1 and Bristol No. 2, 3 points each; Churchville No. 1, 2 points; Perkisville No. 1, 1 1-3 points; and Cornwells No. 1, 1 point.

Under the supervision of Assistant Scout Executives Robert X. Perry, of the southern division of the county, and W. F. Hauser, of the northern division, two groups of contests were conducted at the same time. The meet was directed by County Scout Executive William F. Livermore, who served as official scorer. Judges were present from the Bucks county Sea Scout units, Delaware and Montgomery County Council, and the Allentown section of the Lehigh County Council.

The district banners were awarded to the 1930 district championship winners by Chairman Thomas Ross as follows:

District No. 1 (Lower Bucks), Bristol No. 2, David Neill, Scoutmaster.

District No. 2 (Delaware Valley), South Langhorne, No. 1, S. A. Miller, Scoutmaster.

District No. 3 (Middle Bucks), Doylestown No. 2, Walter V. Rutherford, Scoutmaster.

District No. 3 (North Penn Valley), Sellersville No. 1, Mathew Davidson, Scoutmaster.

OVER 500 MIDDLE BUCKS CHILDREN UNDER WEIGHT

Report of Community Nurse Shows 91 Classrooms Were Visited

PICTURES FOR SCHOOLS

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 21.—Although the schools in Bucks county have been in session less than three months this fall, the nursing activities under the direction of Miss Maude L. Wagner, the rural Red Cross community nurse, have been making great progress.

Miss Wagner a few days ago submitted her report of the activities during the months of September and October. This report shows that 3031 pupils had been weighed in the visits to the schools in the central portion of the county. Visits were made to 91 class rooms. It was found that the 3031 pupils weighed, 590 were ten percent underweight. The visits to the 91 class rooms showed that 1323 children are in need of dental care.

It has been found that many of the parents made efforts to correct defects during the vacation. During this time 294 children had their teeth treated and 34 had defects in their vision corrected and 56 had their tonsils removed.

The report further shows that 3 well baby clinics with 17 in attendance had been held and that 127 children and adults received the Schick test at one of the clinics.

Thirteen dental clinics were held in the Red Cross dental car and 234 children had their dental work completed. Fifty-nine pupils were transported to the dental car by the nurse.

The report shows that two patients were accompanied to the chest clinic and that 171 visits had been made to the schools. Ninety-one class room talks on health were given and 151 follow up visits to the home were made by the nurse.

Four schools were awarded pictures for progress made along health lines during the past year. They were Fretz Valley, Bedminster township; New Union, Bridgeton township, and Brick Church and Erwinna schools, Tinticum.

Henry W. Grahn, field secretary of the Bucks County Tuberculosis Society, assisted in the weighing and measuring of the children in the schools.

Card Party for Charitable Purposes Well Attended

A very successful card party was staged Wednesday night in No. 1 fire house, Wood street, which was given for a charitable purpose. Thirty tables of card players were arranged about the rooms, comprising twenty-nine of pinochle, and one table of "500." There were many beautiful prizes awarded to the winners, who were:

A number of non-player prizes were also awarded. Following the cards, refreshments were served. The committee reported a neat sum realized.

MUSIC LOVERS REVEL IN DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM

Martini Trio Gives Recital of Exceptional Merit Here

MEETS WITH APPROVAL

Music lovers of Bristol and vicinity were given a treat last evening when a recital of exceptional merit was presented by the Martini Trio, assisted by Miss Madeline Mather, in the Travel Club Home, here.

The instrumental trio is composed of R. Joseph Martin, violin; Leonard Martini, cello; and William Martini, piano. Miss Mather, who gave vocal selections, has a clear soprano voice that pleases at all times.

The opening selection by the trio was "Caliph of Bagdad" (Boieldieu); this being followed by "Adagio," from the "Sonata Pathétique" (Beethoven); "Moment Musical" (Schubert); and "Gavotte" (G. B. Martini).

Splendid mastery of their respective instruments was shown in the third group of selections by the Martini brothers, which included: "Intermezzo Sinfonico," Mascagni; "Gypsy Love Song," and "Babes in Toyland" (Herbert).

In her usual pleasing manner Miss Mather sang "Ah! Though the Silver Moon Were Mine" (Lehr), giving as the second selection "Your Eyes Have Told Me So" (Blaufluss). The group of more than seventy assembled in the auditorium, was generous with its response to these numbers, and expressed verbal appreciation at the close of the concert. The hitting accompaniment and words of "The Lilac Tree," the number used by Miss Mather in response to an encore, also proved a splendid selection.

"Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life" (Herbert), and "Carita" (Winne) formed the second brace of numbers by Miss Mather; and she gracefully responded to the appreciation shown with "My Rosary."

The familiar strains of "Poet and Peasant" (Von Suppe), and the pleasing chords of "Spanish Dance" (Mozzowski), formed the final numbers of the program, these being presented by the instrumentalists.

The hostesses of the evening were Miss Josephine Schlitz and Mrs. Katherine Armstrong, of Trenton, N. J.; and Mrs. Clara Johnson, of Bristol.

Ladies' Aid Has Celebration On Its Third Anniversary

The Ladies' Aid Society of Newport Road Community Chapel celebrated its third anniversary last evening at the chapel.

A large number of members gathered, with the Men's Club members as invited guests.

A bountiful lunch was served, and the evening's program included musical numbers and short speeches. The tables were graced with bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums, and yellow and white was the color scheme of the room.

To Mrs. Edmund Groom, president of the Aid for the past three years, was a pretty two-candle effect table lamp presented. Mrs. Groom is commencing her fourth year as president. The presentation was made by Mrs. J. Oliver Bowers.

QUOIT CHAMPIONS PRESENTED WITH CUPS

League Has "Get-Together" Affair to Conclude Its Initial Season

GUS WALDRON SPEAKS

The Bristol Quoit League last night held a "Get-Together Meeting" in the rooms of the Harriman Men's Club and it was a rousing affair. There were speeches, eats, presentation of cups and a general exchange of compliments and words of praise for the success of the league in its initial season.

Samuel Shire, president of the League, was the toastmaster and he called upon representatives of every team to give expression to his ideas of the manner in which the organization was conducted in the past season and what he thought of the future.

"Gus" Waldron, N. J., sportsman of note, was the principal speaker of the evening and he, in a reminiscent way, went back to the days when Bristol was among the leaders in baseball, basketball and other sports of the time.

"Bristol just a little town not generally known throughout the United States, has developed some of the greatest figures in the realm of sports," said Waldron.

"In 1910 I played baseball here with 'Russ' Barton and I want to say right now that there was not a better player in those days than 'Russ.' "I played basketball here with John Plant, Charlie Kline, Harry Hough and others. That was the greatest aggregation of basketball players ever assembled on a floor."

Waldron has been active in every branch of amateur and professional sports. He has played football, baseball, basketball, boxed abroad, refereed some of the outstanding contests here and in Europe. He is a sportsman of wide experience and noted for a true sportsman in every sense of the word.

Waldron gave a most interesting account of his experiences as a newspaperman in investigating the methods employed to smuggle liquor in from the three-mile limit along the New Jersey coast.

He told of the bribing of officials, hi-jacking, and all of the other schemes employed by those out to defeat the purposes of the law.

The Della boys furnished instrumental music and "Tom" Fallon sang an Irish song which elicited much applause.

Remarks were made by James Roch, K. of C.; Neal McDevitt, A. O. U. M. W.; P. Grady, Moose; John Mensel, and I. J. Hetherington, American Legion; John Brehm, Leedom's; Robert Hemslon; Herman Encke, Rohm & Haas.

Vocal numbers were given by Percy G. Ford, John Brehm and William Connors.

Stanford K. Runyan, of T. L. Leedom Company, who gave the use of the quoit courts for the league games and whose support meant much in the success of the League, assured the (Continued on Page 5)

ASKS BRISTOL TO AID IN BOOSTING BRIDGE OPENING

Burlington Active and Urges Co-operation From The Folks Here

PLAN A CELEBRATION

Unique Method Employed in Fabricating Center Span

Importuning the people of Bristol to co-operate with the people of Burlington in giving publicity to the opening of the bridge across the Delaware River between the two towns, two speakers yesterday addressed the Rotary Club here.

The speakers were: George C. McKann, Jr., secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Burlington, and Lloyd Cross, engineer for the McClintic-Marshall Company, bridge constructors.

"Think of the development and the benefit which is to be derived from the completion of this bridge," said Mr. McKann. Then he exhibited maps showing how the most direct routes would lead over the bridge from central Pennsylvania for those who wanted to reach the southern New Jersey resorts.

"It has been found that density of population follows heavily traveled highways," stated the speaker.

He told how the Burlington Chamber of Commerce had devoted much time to planning for the opening of the bridge and that that organization expected great benefit to Burlington by the completion of the span.

"Bristol and Burlington will be brought closer together and there will be more business done between the two towns. We feel as though there is need of some active body in Bristol to take up with us the work of broadcasting the fact that the bridge is here and open to travel, when that time arrives."

The speaker also intimated that a celebration will be held in connection with the opening of the bridge and it is desired that Bristol join hands in this with Burlington.

Mr. Cross in his talk predicted that the bridge will mean much to the two municipalities and that it is expected to be finished some time in February. Difficulty is being experienced in the construction of the roadway at the Bristol approach due to quicksand. Much filling is being required due to the fact that the roadway has been relocated through some swamp section.

Questioned as to the amount of toll to be charged he intimated that it would not exceed 35 cents which is now charged at Tucony-Palmira and that it may be less.

A committee will be named by the Rotary Club to arouse interest here in the bridge and to organize a town-wide committee to co-operate with the Burlington folks.

Mr. Cross explained the new departure being employed in fabricating the center span of the bridge which is entirely new in bridge building.

About 150 feet of the central span has been built out from the Bristol side and now rests on a bent that has been temporarily erected in the channel. Another 150 feet will be swung out from the New Jersey side, being suspended by cables now in process of construction, just as the Bristol end was built and the river end of that section also will rest on a bent.

The central portion, 240 feet long, will be cantilevered out from the sections already in place. A sturdy tug will be in service to assist while the bents are in position.

The lift span will be the longest in the world, exceeding by 150 feet the lift span in Newport News-Norfolk bridge.

VISITORS TOMORROW

LANGHORNE, Nov. 21.—Those in charge of the Philadelphia Convalescent Home for Children will greet visitors tomorrow between the hours of 3 and 5 p. m. At that time also may reservations be made for children of this section who need convalescent care.

STATE NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 21.—(INS)—"Your dinner is in the fireplace," Mrs. J. R. Chamberlain informed her husband here when he returned home from work.

Mr. Chamberlain is unaccustomed to getting dinner from the fireplace. He decided to investigate.

He did. There, in the old-fashioned hearth, was a plump and chipper hen pheasant. Mr. Chamberlain likes pheasant, but prefers them cooked. The hen, his spouse explained, had flown down the chimney and she was at a loss as to how to remove it.

Mr. Chamberlain solved the difficulty by opening the front door, removing the fire screen and inviting the pheasant to leave. The bird did after fluttering about and destroying some potted flowers.

"There goes a good dinner," murmured Mr. Chamberlain as he watched the pheasant depart.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 21.—(INS)—It's a poor drought that brings no good with it.

Residents of this section will testify to that, for, with Ten Mile creek practically dry as a result of last summer's prolonged drought, several of the more enterprising nearby residents have taken to mining the Waynesburg vein of coal, where it crops out along the bed of the stream.

Picks and shovels are the only tools necessary to lay in a good winter's coal supply.

FEWER DIE

It was Oscar Wilde who once said "the only way to get rid of temptation is to yield to it." Its fault as a paradox is that long before it ever was put into words it was believed by a majority of people.

For that reason the following is more surprising: the best way to starve off death is to be sick. That, however, is from another wild—the abyss of nature. Of course, one must remember that all epigrams, and even nature's, are tricks and half-truths.

This latter paradox is suggested by government statistics showing that the diseases which cause the greatest amount of sickness rank relatively low as causes of death. Thus respiratory disorders are responsible for 60 per cent of the illness in the typical city, but only 20 per cent of the deaths. On the other hand, diseases of the heart and blood vessels cause only 2 per cent of the illness, but 24 per cent of the deaths.

Traffic accidents, industrial accidents and the many other hazards the person in full health and vigor encounters in the course of a day lend force to the argument that the sick bed with its protecting barriers of expert medical and nursing care is a relatively safe place to be. Being sick today is a less serious thing than it was when medicine and surgery were in the experimental stage and the hospital death rate fluctuated between 60 and 90 per cent of all patients.

WHAT A DOLLAR WILL DO

Sixteen thousand communities are participating in this year's membership roll call of the American Red Cross, which will seek to enroll not only the 4,130,000 old members but millions more if they can be reached with the story of this great humanitarian institution.

There are 28,000,000 families in the United States and every one of them should have at least one member in the Red Cross. It is not only a mark of distinction but an act of self-preservation. How many of those communities stricken by flood, fire, hurricane or earthquake knew, when year after year they gave their dollars to the Red Cross, that the time would come when that organization would come to them on a mission of mercy?

Than the American Red Cross there is no greater agency of peace, friendship and good will devoted to humanity without regard to race, color or creed. No more practical and far-reaching philanthropy was ever conceived.

Those who contribute to the American Red Cross do so knowing that, because most of its active personnel serves without compensation, its funds are almost entirely used in actual relief work. The member's dollar goes to some hapless victim to whom emergency relief means life or death.

Nor is this annual appeal one of "give until it hurts."

Folk are expecting a lot from 1931.

You have to cultivate good habits. The bad ones grow wild.

Even an old-fashioned girl hates to think a man married her for nothing but a talent for manufacturing meals.

tions and difficulties, problems of health, financial emergencies and various anxieties—all of which, the hospital physicians state, has helped greatly in relieving the mental condition of the ill veteran and quickening his rehabilitation. This cannot be measured in terms of money.

The expenditure of the Department for the ten months has been $50,844.57 by far the largest chapter expense for any service.

In this period, 1,169 families received from the Government a total of $541,658.34 for the following causes:

For Compensation: $348,608.25 to 334 families.

For Adjusted Compensation: $116,465.73 to 97 families.

From Insurance for death: $62,902.03 to 72 families.

From Insurance for permanent and total disabilities: $13,282.33 to 66 families.

Total: $541,658.34 to 1,169 families.

On November 1st, there were 3,949 men and families under the Chapter's care—representing 2,490 disabled men, 342 men in the Army or Navy, and 217 not disabled but requiring aid of some kind. Of the 3,949 cases, about one-eighth are now in hospitals.

All this work has been carried on by the Home Service Department, of which Miss Bessie I. Patterson is secretary, under the direction of the Home Service Committees at chapter and branch headquarters, and was in close cooperation with the various posts of the American Legion in the Counties of Philadelphia, Delaware, Montgomery, Chester and Bucks—comprising the chapter areas.

Where the posts are handling the individual cases, the chapter in many cases, on their request, is doing the family and social work and jointly working out a plan for care and financial relief.

A message from the Philadelphia County Council, American Legion, to the chapter as follows:

"On the occasion of your Annual Roll Call, Commander Curran directs me to inform you that the Philadelphia County Council is in hearty sympathy with your great project and that it has our unqualified endorsement.

"Wishing you all success in your undertaking, I am

"Cordially yours,

"Signed) HERBERT O. MADARA, Adjutant."

was much appreciated by the chapter directorate and the Home Service Department.

Without an increase in membership, and especially in those paying the moderate dues of $5 or $10 or $25 a year, the chapter faces the certainty of being without sufficient funds to meet the needs of 1931. It has expended over $10,000 in excess of its 1930 income, and its power for aid in needed relief can only keep step with its financial support from the public through membership.

If all those employed consider it an honor and a national obligation to join the Red Cross, it will enable the chapter to fulfill its obligations this coming year.

J. FRANKLIN McFADDEN, Chairman.

Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter American Red Cross.

Given Surprise Shower By Group of Friends

Miss Lavinia Jeffries, of Swain street, was tendered a surprise birthday and miscellaneous shower at her home Wednesday evening. Miss Jeffries and Lawrence Davis attended the first show of the "movies" and upon their return at 9.30 o'clock, found the guests already assembled. A number of gifts had been placed on the table and as Miss Jeffries entered the room, she was requested to open each package. After the gifts had been viewed and admired, the evening was spent in a social way, playing pinocchle, "500" and rhum.

At a late hour, the guests were invited to the dining room where refreshments of sandwiches, cake, ice cream, candy, nuts and fruit were served. The room was prettily decorated with pink and blue crepe papers which were draped from the corners to the center of the room, and to each place at the table. After extending hearty congratulations to Miss

Jeffries, the guests departed for their homes.

Those who enjoyed this affair were: Misses Mary Roe, Hilda Davis, Sara Milnor, Elsie Day, Anna Schaffer, Lavinia, Anna and Ruth Jeffries, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thiele and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Jeffries.

Messrs. Joseph Ryan, Earl Wright, John Black, Irvin Schell, Lawrence Davis, John, Arthur and Edward Jeffries.

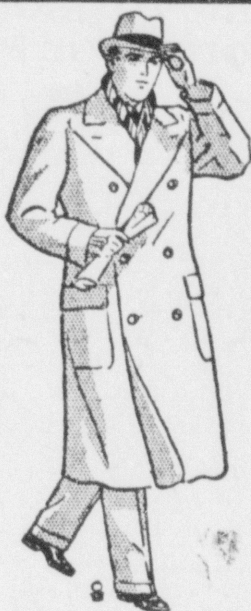

Charged With Embezzlement

Mrs. Hilda E. Schroeder (right), also known as Mrs. George Gibbett and Ruth Chaney, 48, was arrested at Philadelphia, Pa., and charged with embezzlements amounting to $400,000. A short time later a man named John Naughton (left), 40, was arrested and held on a similar charge. They now await extradition to Illinois, where they are alleged to have engaged in spurious real estate deals.

15 Famous Questions

PEOPLE ALWAYS ASK US ABOUT

KOPPERS RAINY-WOOD COKE

Here's what NEW users ask us

People always want to know these things before they first try Koppers Coke . . .

Here's what OLD users will tell you . . .

- 1.—Will I Save Money?
Yes, you'll save $2 out of every $10 you previously spent for heat. You burn less fuel and pay less for what you DO burn.
- 2.—Does It Make Less Ash?
A whole week's ashes in a little pail . . . 13 inches high! That's all the ashes the average family will get from this new improved fuel.
- 3.—Does It Give More Heat?
Not only does Koppers Coke cost much less per ton . . . it also gives more heat per ton. That's why you use less of it. All day long you will find your home much warmer.
- 4.—How Do I Know It's Good?
Read the official U. S. Government Report* that recommends domestic coke house heating most highly.
- 5.—Is It Easy to Use?
Koppers Coke makes so little ash that shaking is largely eliminated, and the care of your furnace is made simple and easy.
- 6.—Do You Help Me Get Results?
To make sure you get full benefit, the Koppers Coke service man comes to your home. No cost or obligation to you. He shows you how to get the greatest amount of heat from your furnace for the least amount of money.
- 7.—Is This "Coal Strike" Coke?
Positively not. Don't confuse Koppers Coke with industrial or foundry coke used during the coal strike. This is an utterly new-type fuel, made especially for home use.
- 8.—Does Heat Hold All Day?
You will be delighted at its long-lasting steady heat, and the comfort it gives.
- 9.—Does It Bank Well at Night?
You'll find it banks unusually well . . . ready to give a brisk hot fire first thing in the morning.
- 10.—Will I Use Less Fuel?
Yes. Its more heat per ton means you use fewer tons.
- 11.—Is It Quick Heat?
A touch of the damper starts it. No waiting. No coaxing. You get results quick.
- 12.—Do I Need Any "Extras"?
No special grates or apparatus needed. Nothing extra to buy. Just your present furnace, and you'll be amazed at the results.
- 13.—Will It Save My Furnace?
Beware of fuels with too much ashes . . . ashes cause grates to burn out by clogging the ash-pit and choking off air. Koppers Coke has so little ash that the possibility of damage is eliminated. It's easy to keep the ash-pit clean. Your furnace gives much better results than ever before.
- 14.—Is It Clean?
Koppers Coke is a refined fuel . . . smokeless, sootless, and clean.
- 15.—How Can I Get It?
Just send post card; or better still, phone us today.

Cosden's Millions Gone Again—Wife Sticks

Twice Josh Cosden Compiled Huge Fortunes, and Twice He Has Lost Them. Beautiful Wife Fought Poverty's Battle, Which Nearly Cost Her Her Hard-Won Position in Society—Can She Go Through It Again?

PRINCE OF WALES

COSDEN MANSION
SANDS POINT LONG IS.

MABEL COSDEN

MRS. COSDEN

JOSHUA COSDEN

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 21.—Josh Cosden has again lost a fabulous fortune, but he is still rich. For his beautiful wife, who has weathered the storm of poverty before, is sticking to him in the latest crisis in the career of the meteoric oil man. Josh Cosden has streaked across the sky of riches and society twice before and it would seem that his wife still believes in his ability to pull himself out of the slough of failure again to climb the Olympian heights of success. And while society is admiring the lovely Mabel Cosden for her wifely devotion, it is wondering if she will really continue to stick to him should he not be fortunate enough to stage another sensational comeback.

The romance of the Cosdens is as interesting as any story penned by a novelist. The business career of Josh Cosden is as absorbing as the romance of his life and marriage. The two are intertwined.

Cosden was a farmboy in Warten, Maryland. He became a trolley car conductor, a bill collector and then a drug clerk. He married Otilie Lowensprung and with her migrated to Oklahoma, his mind fired with stories of the newly developed oil wells. Friends in Baltimore believed in the sandy-haired boy and his dreams, and they staked him with capital to develop his own wells and refinery. Soon Josh was rich and with wealth came domestic disagreements. There was a divorce and his wife was awarded custody of their three children. That summer, Charles Roser, an employee of Cosden's, divorced his wife. A few months later Josh Cosden and Mabel Roser were married. And Tulsa watched the romance.

Mabel Cosden proved herself an ambitious woman. Well educated, proficient in modern languages, a good conversationalist and well versed in the social graces, the atmosphere of the crude mining town began to close in on her.

So the Cosdens descended on Manhattan to storm the ranks of the "400." They arrived in a private car. They engaged enormous hotel suites. Famous jewels were purchased at fabulous prices. A home was bought in exclusive Sands Point, the Long Island community of millionaires. Newport was stormed, an ocean-front property was negotiated for and the Cosdens crashed the frigid Newport colony. Palm Beach knew the Cosdens and sampled their staggering hospitality in their $2,000,000 Spanish home. Suddenly the Cosden fortune seemed to shrink. But despite an impending financial crisis, Mabel Cosden managed to ensure the Prince of Wales as her house guest in July, 1924, in her Sands Point home. From then on second and third, tied, South Langhorne and Churchville.

It was in 1929 that Josh Cosden staged his comeback. His Palm Beach, Newport and Long Island homes had gone under the hammer but Cosden announced that they would build bigger and better homes with the enormous fortune they again possessed. For it was reputed that Josh Cosden had not only retrieved his losses but was worth a cool $15,000,000 to boot. And now Cosden has again lost his fortune. And the dreams of further social conquests and glory are scattered before the hand of misfortune.

The other day Cosden's latest enterprise, the Cosden Oil Company, was thrown into the hands of receivers at Wilmington, Delaware. Cosden rushed up from a Florida sanatorium and announced that he was solvent. But he could not prevent the receivership action. And the oil king is back where he started.

There are many who believe that Josh Cosden will stage a comeback, that his financial genius, backed by his wife's belief in him, will put him in the ring once more. Should this materialize, the Cosdens' place in society will be more secure than ever, because of the gameness of the man and the devotion of his beautiful wife.

"Flaxolyn Helps Nature Strengthen the Nerves and Tissues; Aids Stomach"

Says Noted Roumanian Physician, Former Board of Health Director

Dr. Samuel Ostfeld Joins American and European Doctors in Whole-hearted Praise of Flaxolyn Discovery

"I am glad to report," writes Dr. Ostfeld, "that the appetite force contained in Dr. Luntz's Flaxolyn helps to build up the nerves and tissues and to restore normal strength and alertness, at the same time that it makes stomach and bowels act as Nature intended."

Thousands of people right here, who formerly suffered nights of sleeplessness and days of intestinal or stomach distress due to constipation, now feel fit, eat with keen appetite and sleep serenely, since taking America's most successful formula, Herbal Flaxolyn.

Dr. Samuel Ostfeld, of Roumania, who says: "The Flaxolyn formula is indeed ideal. To my knowledge there is nothing to compare with its effectiveness."

men that he would continue to cooperate with them and that he wished them the greatest success.

Mr. Runyan in his remarks stressed his interest in sports and his interest in the things in which the employees of the Leedom mill are interested. "Our boys were interested in quoits so I was interested and I told them to go ahead and use the court."

Samuel Shire thanked all who assisted in the work of the season, especially the officers who had aided him.

President Shire presented silver lovng cups to Russell Barton for the Leedom team which won every one of the 35 matched games scheduled. The team scored 5191 points during the season and had an average of 1,000 percent.

Mr. Booz, Paterson Parchment Paper Co., accepted the cup for his team which lost only six of the 35 games. Jesse Headley, single champion of Paterson Parchment team, received a cup as did also William Johns and Howard Steel for best doubles of the Harriman Men's Club.

Londos Beats Garibaldi

Cino Garibaldi, Italian wrestling champ, pouncing Jim Londos, catch-as-catch-can wrestling champ, right on his back with a vicious headlock. Garibaldi, after defeating himself by falling out of the ring, was pinned to the mat 46 minutes after the start of the match. This unusual pose was made from ring-side at Madison Square Garden, New York City, with the Candid camera.
